And whereas, numerous applications from like good citizens of this Commonwealth have also been made to me, praying me to issue a proclamation torbidding the occupation of any post or place, or the march over our sacred soil by any force of the United States for any purpose. And whereas, it is made fully evident, by every indication of public sentiment, that it is the determined purpose of the good people of Kentucky to maintain, with courageous firmness, the fixed position of self-defense, proposing or intending no invasion or agsion towards any other State or States forbidding the quartering of troops upon her soil by either of the hostile sections, but simply standing about from an unnatural, horrid, lamentable strife, for the existense of which Kentucky, neither by thought, word nor act, is in any wise responsible. And whereas, the policy thus recommended by so many of my fellow-citizens of all political
